REBELLION RECORD .- We have received the XXIVth or the closing number of the first vol ume of the Rebellion Record, containing Titlepage, Preface, Contents, List of Illustrations, and a complete and systematic General Index. The Record will be published as heretoforeweekly and monthly-weekly numbers at ten cents each; monthly parts, illustrated, at fifty

We have also received the first monthly part of the second volume of the Record, comprising all the official reports of the battle of Bull Run; picturesque narratives from eye witnesses; a map with positions, etc.; incidents, anecdotes, statistics, etc.; official reports of the rebels; Munchauseria, rebel and otherwise; Rossertt's letters on the battle, with comments of the press, English and American.

Whether the Record is taken in weekly numbers or monthly parts-the price with the illustrations being the same-it will make several handsome volumes—the number depending on the length of time the civil war continues-of most important, complete and reliable historical and documentary information, with which every man, and particularly every young man, cannot but desire to be familiar. It will make in itself a complete library of information conearning the Great Rebellion.

The Rebellion Record is published by G. P. PUTNAM, 532 Broadway New York, and may be obtained of R. KENNEDY, of this city, and of Booksellers and Newsmen generally.

A PROPARE H-ENGLISHMAN.-The Wheeling Intelligencer says it is customary on the river to mark the etarboard batch of a steamer S. C., and the larboard hatch L. S. On a boat building at Wheeling, some land-lubber did the painting, and put the L. on the starboard side. Presently the carpenter, an Englishman, came round, and observing the blunder, remarked: "Now you've played 'ell with that 'atch. You've went and put hell on the starboard

AN EXAMPLE WORTHY OF IMITATION .- It has been remarked by numerous residents in the First Ward, that the election in that precinct on last Tuesday, passed off in an unusually quiet and orderly manner. This we have heard attributed, and it was no doubt due in a great part, at least, to the fact that Mr. WM. Dixon, wher has a saloon near where the election was held, kept his establishment, though entreated to open it, closed during the entire day. Let due credit be awarded him.

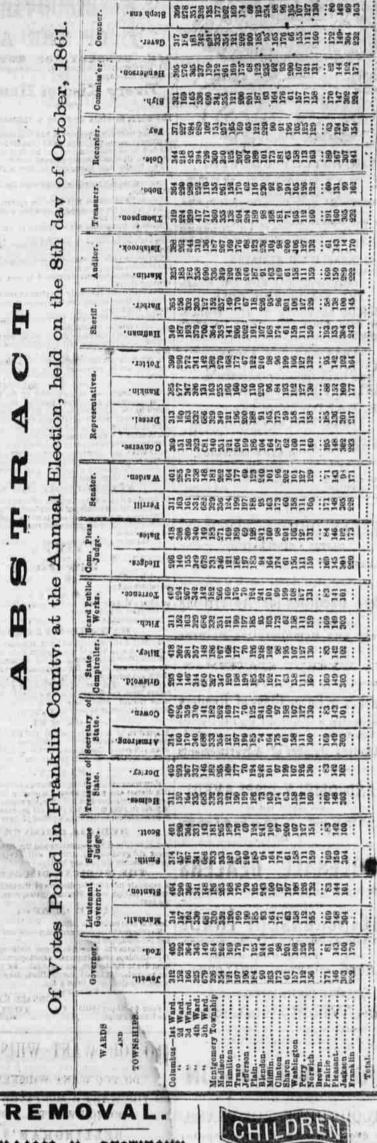

A SPREE AMONG SOLDIERS .- We learn that a squad of soldiers sent out from Camp Thomas yesterday, to procure water, during their ab sence, mingled with the pure water rather too much bad whisky. When they returned to camp, their conduct [was so unbecoming, rude and quarrelsome that they were incarcerated in the guard-house. In that establishment they got into a row-a general fight among themselves-in the progress of which they came so near demolishing the tenement in which they were confined, that a messenger was dispatched to the city for a carpenter to repair the building. Rather unsoldierlike conduct, we think
